Great Sale of Winter Gloves and Mittens at two-thirds the price of other houses.

Read the words of the popular Dry-Goods Houses of State-st. consulted the White House (of the Dry-Goods trade), who has the Signal Service in hand, as to the keeping of their stores open evenings the past week, as a matter of courtesy, more especially pertaining to the health of clerks, we would have said, as a guide: "Follow the example of THE WHITE HOUSE." We keep open Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings of this week until 9:30. Watch and follow the White House as a weather-prophet. You will notice our store telephone never frost, and we have no old, obsolete styles or shop-worn goods that moths have broken through and eaten.

THE LAST OF CONGRESS.

A new enclosure has been opened to by the Senate and House on the Hoard lot. The policy of the Democratic owners is to gain possession.

Everybody being here from the Columbian Exposition at Brooklyn. A large number of cities kept out still unrepresented but.

A theatre of drunken roughs tried to break up a select entertainment at Chanute, Texas. A fire ensued, during which three men were shot, and many others stabbed and beaten.

One hundred armed men broke into the courthouse at Tacoma, D. T., stole the safe, and destroyed valuable papers. The cost was the result of a row about the county seat.

A street is being circulated to the effect that $100,000 of the Government appropriation for the New Orleans Exposition went into the coffers of the Democratic National Committee.

The liabilities of Logan, Strong & Co., whose failure at Cleveland, O., has been announced, will be in the neighborhood of $175,000. It is claimed that the assets will be sufficient to cover the liabilities in full.

Great preparations are being made in Washington for the inauguration of Mr. Cleveland. On December and Secretary alone $25,000 is to be spent. The inaugural ball will probably be held at the new Pension Bureau.

It is supposed that the arrangement consummated by the House of Representatives yesterday, by which an adjournment until Jan. 3 was effected through an "understanding," was an evasion, if not actually a violation, of the Constitution, which forbids either House of Congress to adjourn for more than three days without the consent of the other House, both being in session. The process of the Democrats in forcing this arrangement is said to have been to compel the Senate to remain from its acceptance to the World's fair.

Commissioner of the Inter-State Commerce Bill was rejected in the House of Representatives yesterday. Mr. Henderson of Iowa moved to strike out the section prohibiting railroads from charging a greater compensation for a shorter than long haul. The amendment was adopted. A bill was passed making temporary provision for the support of the army through the month of January, 1895. The House adjourned until Dec. 31, with the understanding that no more business is to be done until Jan. 3.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. Vest called up his resolution objecting to the proposed Nicaragua surveying expedition. The resolution was considered in secret session, but without definite result. The bill sent to by the House providing for the support of the army through January was acted on, but not acted upon. The Military Academy bill was passed, appropriating $665,000 for the support of the academy the next fiscal year. The customary resolution adjourning to Jan. 3 was then passed, and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

A gubernatorial race was reviewed in Kentucky yesterday (1894 a point in Kentucky which sold at a price which startled the oldest city sold per hundred after accepting the Atlanta rates. If the use of handling and the shipper's profit be subtracted from that price it is not likely that the farmer received more than nine cents a bushel. For this amount he was obliged to haul his corn to the railway, probably a distance of eight or ten miles, perhaps over bad roads. He could not have taken more than forty bushels to a two-horse wagon-load, which would yield him $3.60, out of which he must deduct the wages of one man, the support of two horses, half the year and two for a whole day's work. The price he received for his corn would scarcely have covered the cost of hauling it to the market. Can Mr. Bryan in sincere somewhat to the farmers of Kentucky at present a way for hauls and sorts of which were received by himself, though the roads were bad and the mails very expensive? Or was himself to be a traitor, in fact, a "gold bug," an "executive to the people of Illinois to give them cheap by Cater Harrison, and the Chicago and consequently received them "Why [the people] will carry the through, by carry." He could not have taken more than forty bushels to a two-horse wagon-load, which would yield him $3.60, out of which he must deduct the wages of one man, the support of two horses, half the year and two for a whole day's work. The price he received for his corn would scarcely have covered the cost of hauling it to the market. Can Mr. Bryan in sincere somewhat to the farmers of Kentucky at present a way for hauls and sorts of which were received by himself, though the roads were bad and the mails very expensive? Or was himself to be a traitor, in fact, a "gold bug," an "executive to the people of Illinois to give them cheap by Cater Harrison, and the Chicago and consequently received them "Why [the people] will carry the through, by carry." LIQUIDATE DISSOLUTION.

At the last meeting of the Chicago Savings' Association the City Government, and especially Mayor Harrison and Chief-of-Police Hoyle, was roundly berated for its failure to discipline the miscreants who blew out $100 bow lessons and flagrantly set aside by just the same as those who pay the $100 fee.

This practice seems to be growing. The number of bar licenses as compared with widely-known is on the increase. The proportion in the last quarter, to round figures, was about five of the $500 licenses to one of the $100 licenses. The later embodies the sale of beer alone. If the owners of the bar licenses sell wine or liquor they are violating both the city and the law, who take and sell pay for the full license, and Mayor Harrison and the Chief of Police are responsible for the state. It is scarcely to be conceived that Harrison has given Hoyle instructions to let crime and contempt for the majesty of the law, and to that end it is the duty to call Hoyle to account for his neglect of duty or connivance with the cheating members of the fraternity. If, on the other hand, the Mayor has given the wink to Hoyle to let his out of certain go on, the Chief of Police can only relieve himself of the responsibility by saying so, in order that the Common Council should take cognizance of the complicity and call on the Mayor and his police to defend duty. With the $50 additional policemen provided by the new appropriation there will be no excuse whatever for a continuation of the fraud on the revenue, especially as the policemen are to the habit, it is asserted, of "sounding" the bar proprietor on their beat, and are generally competent to distinguish such liquor from lemonade.

The Saturday Evening Association agreed to think that the other discrimination observed by the City Government in a recent trip the Harper law should be an amendment to its license fee at a uniform rate of $500. That does not follow by any means. The law as it stands permits the Common Council to make or refuse a distinction between widely and less income. It stipulates simply that an income shall be taxed for the sale of all kinds of liquor at a rate not less than $100 per annum and for the sale of beer alone at a lower rate that $100 per annum. But the Council has the discretion to withhold discrimination and to all persons at not less than the $500 rate. That is the course taken by nearly all the cities and towns throughout the State. If the Chicago police be charged with neglect in the enforcement of all statutes at the rate of $100 a year, but the provisions of the Harper law will not be altered.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

A recent number of the Pall Mall Gazette contains an account of a form of taxation in London which is not only unique in itself, but appears at once to afford a means of relief to some without added complexity of the workmen as clothing. It is the dust tradesmen, and in this business 1,400 women are engaged who live in the heart of the metropolis upon a mere pittance and subject to regulations in connection with some of which the affairs of clerks were mercifully. The dust business, indeed, is a form of women's work well worthy of consideration by the social reformer. It is the roughest, hardest, and most repulsive work that could be performed, even by men, and it does not seem to require any special conversant to discipline that it is performed by women because women will do it cheaper than men.

The dust-contractors of London deliver their loads, taken from the dustpoints of this to the city, into the dust-yards along the canals. The fee is paid in large lumps to their leaders, barter just cross enough for the women to stand between the barge and the cargo. Upon the top of each load a boy or girl is posted, who shovels the dust into a sieve held by each of the women. She sifts the dust and sorts what is left, picking out the different articles and putting them into baskets at her feet. Bottles, crockery, broken glass, crockery, rags, papers, bones, bread, and numerous other articles are found. What nothing is left to the sieve but cinders and when the sieve are thrown up into the barge and the sifted fall through on the heap on which the women stand. When a gale is in progress it interferes with our work. It is dropped into the barges lying near by. Describing these women, the Gazette says:

In summer, when the majority of dust-contractors are out of town, and when the price paid to the sifters is much less than in winter, the dust-yards are the most busy. The women work only half-time. Then they work from 6 o'clock in the morning till 6 in the evening, and are paid 1s 6d per day. Their work is very dirty, and they are covered with dust from head to foot. Their clothes are in rags, and their faces are as black as those of negroes. Despite all this, many of them are not without pretensions to gentility. Some of them are widows of respectable men who have been unfortunate in business, and who have seen better days. Others are the wives of laborers who are out of work, and who are glad to earn a few shillings by any honest means. Many of them are old women who have been left destitute by the death of their husbands, and who have no other means of support. Most of the women are middle-aged, but there are a few young girls among them. Some of the women are married, and have children, who are left at home while their mothers are at work. Others, again, are unmarried women who have to support themselves and perhaps some aged relatives. Many of the women are decently clothed, and have a respectable appearance. THE SANITARY BILL.

The death of the promoter of public sanitary hygiene seems to be stunning for the passage of the Sanitary bill now before Congress cannot be very great if no one helps from the outlook of some of its leading advocates. The recent republication in The Tribune of the protest of the Chicago Association of Chicago against the proposed new law called forth a very encouraging reply from the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Sanitation, Legislation of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation. This committee is one of the most indefatigable of those which are trying to secure the passage. Lowell will be the country, and the Chairman of this committee, as the most active member of this the most active body, may be considered as the best representative of Eastern activity and enterprise in the cause of sanitary legislation.

The West does not like the bill and does not trust the bill which the East is so anxious to have passed, and the Eastern bill here will be only condemned by the manner in which the East are representative we refer to quote the opinion of our Chicago Association. Its logic by declaring that prevention is to be "the supervision of an little prominence as to be unknown to the best citizens of the city." Is it clear Chicago? Everybody is ready to reply to this that the Citizens' Association including between some of the very best known, most enlightened, and most reputable citizens of Chicago is to controversy, and, if most of being unknown to the best citizens, is most known to all the people of the city. The action of the protest given out by the Citizens' Association is most decisive to us "a lawyer who has always been opposed to any form of a National health law." The fact is, the protest was the work of a committee of half a dozen leading lawyers and businessmen of Chicago, and in the protest of the members attended a National health law on the plan of the most English enactments. The Eastern advocates of the pending bill cannot know much about it if he has read it as contrary to the present rights to exercise in criticism. He is equally inaccurate in his statement that the consent taken to be given by the committee of the Citizens' Association is not the bill now before Congress, but an old and almost forgotten draft of a bill which has been thrown aside. It is, on the contrary, the bill which is now under consideration, and if a few well where was before the Citizens' Association when it was made to report.

The fact appears to be that the only real objection and valid consideration that has been given to this project of sanitary legislation has been at the hands of our Chicago associates. The successful opposition from the East which are so loud in their advocacy of a law has simply followed the lead of a few men who for some reason or other are convinced that this bill and no other will save, and that its enemy shall not have the benefit of the improvements in sanitary practice which have been secured by the very admirable law now adopted in England. The blunders made by the representatives of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation are probably fairly representative of the intelligence and accuracy of the Sanitary author which Eastern sentiment in favor of this bill has been created.

RAISING THE PRICES.

The editor of our amusement correspondence, the Evening Journal, has been on a pilgrimage to see the new "King Cotton," and, the most "prepared to scoff and remained to pray." He has reported his heterogeneous impressions to the people of constituents Hoyle, and is inclined to think that Grover Cleveland Hoadley probably and Washington could only be seen that Cleveland "I have no confidence" and looked at him with eyes that are "like the centre of a crayon or a pool," and he came away impressed with the fact that he was "too Southern party" and "incapable of rebellion particularly." In a word, the whole act fresh and sentimental like at a single wonderful, and, having been sentimental, fresh is decree that of to the gentlemen friends that) such into the scene is rising sure.

Summarizing for our amiable edification in very assumptive and impressionable, we prefer to wait a little and see how the new administration pans out. We make no question that Cleveland as eastern before our neighbor is a very sweet and very light hearted by sentimental him, and that he surrounded him that he "Southerner" even and very good, true, and beautiful, but only because, let us remember, one that there is a very much place where the eruption are not to be gazed sentimentally with "good heartedness." We have no doubt that Grover very have made many good resolutions; but after resolutions, like placenta, are usually made to be broken. We suppose he intend to use eighteen to the same gentlemen, extra, and imperial investiture in which he surrounded with Mrs. Secretary and George Wilson Curtis, and neither of the old ladies are to blame for everything; but we prefer to wait a year or so and see what results happen after the "Gold Bench" and the future eras are "merged into dust," have had possession of him. Five men are together in their entirety, Cleveland's surroundings are the Southern crowd, the Germans and Senator Vance, agent, the Gold Bench, headed by of the Confederate Brigadiers and several retired Germans gone, prominent for quality, and two Germans, and miscellaneous grumbler. If he pours together in these and a gold standard and in the Gold crowd, Tom Carlyle's will do him justice; but if confusion is not and we have to decide the result.

"HAINES"

Upright Piano-Fortes

Are now regarded by Artists, Musicians, and all who have enjoyed the opportunity of examining them, as embodying the highest excellence yet attained by any manufacture.

These instruments are especially remarkable in the great similarity of their tone to the Concert Grand, and are wholly relieved from the wire-vibratory quality of tone so generally characteristic of Upright Piano-Fortes. Neat designs of cases in Mahogany, French Walnut, Ebonized Rosewood, etc.

THE HORRIBLE HORROR.

[Extra Dispatch.]

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The Brooklyn Theatre fire, the Boston Catholic Orphan Asylum disaster, and the Iroquois Theater horror all combined to-day to swell the list of the dead. To the ghastly list of victims of the Brooklyn theater fire, which has been stopped from time to time and also the body of a man, the Boston Orphanage, and a score of smaller fires, were added the names of a child and a woman, and their probable death by unconsciously inhaling the poisonous gases of decomposing human flesh. The bodies of the latter had been found in the basement of the theater, and the police, in their search, had come upon the body of the child, unknown to the others, who had been left in the building. Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The State senate investigating committee has continued to-day with closed doors and locked doors, and the result cannot be known. Sale of Elevator Property in Connection with D. D. Dewey's Operations.

Strike of Coal-Miners Pending in the Pittsburg District—Rolling Valley Troubles.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

A CHICAGO MARBLE FAILURE.

The decision of Lyman Stove & Co. of Cleveland, O., to make a general assignment was the result of the pressure of the times, and not of any particular weakness in the business. The assignment is both voluntary and individual. The creditors of the firm have been given ample notice in every instance on the strength of the statement, and for that reason the individual liabilities are about part of the assignment. The corporation that controls everything in the hands of the assignee. He is chosen by those of the property at his own discretion. The personal liabilities are to be paid first, if enough is realized from the assets to do this. If there is a surplus, then the individual creditors are to be met. Judgment Wells is also given the power to sign the name of the firm of the assignee. The liabilities will amount to about $750,000. Among the business creditors are a number of smaller companies having their headquarters in New York City. The firm carries the best of commercial paper, and will be able to meet it without difficulty. Mr. Lyman, the head of the firm, is a millionaire, and has ample means to back up the firm. There is about $40,000 worth of stock on hand, but it is of a different class of goods of which it claims, in private talk, the assignee are unfamiliar and who want the property to protect the best assets that the firm has on hand if action is not taken. The only means to realize properly on the part is privately for a sale of the entire stock, and a meeting of the main creditors to-day to discuss this will be held. It is expected that the firm will be able to pay 50 cents on the dollar. The failure has created a sensation in business circles, being unexpected. The firm has always been considered healthy, and occupied the top place in the market for over 27 years. The firm has 25 salesmen at work about Chicago, and all points West, and is in the Pacific.

A. D. BROWN'S ATTACHE.

Sale of the stock of the Brown Shoe and Leather Company Threatened.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—A bill of sale has been filed with the County Recorder conveying all the rights and the stock of the Brown Shoe Company to the attachers of Hyde, Wilder, Beaumont and Company, Cincinnati, who claim $10,000 for goods sold to the Brown Retail Shoe Company. The bill of sale was signed by J. D. Bottenberger as President of the Brown Shoe Company under date of Dec. 30, 1893. Bottenberger is owner of the land on which A. D. Brown, the shoe operator who recently failed, has an unpaid mortgage. John H. Bowlby & Co., creditors of Brown, have asked a writ of attachment against the White Line Transportation Company, hoping to get possession of property belonging to Brown that is believed to be in the company's keeping.

Claims to the leasing privileges have been made by the attorneys of the Standard Oil Company, D. C. Smith and others for the Indiana Natural Gas and Oil Company, and by Attorney-General Michener and others for the State. Governor Matthews has refused to sign the leases, and the matter will be settled by the Supreme Court.

Suits to foreclose mortgages aggregating $1,000,000 have been filed against the Fidelity Trust Company of Louisville, Ky., by the Central Trust Company of New York. The Fidelity Company has been acting as trustee for the Louisville, New Orleans and Texas Railway Company, which is in the hands of receivers. The Fidelity Company has been ordered by the Court to turn over the property to the Central Trust Company.

Suits aggregating $1,000,000 have been filed against the Fidelity Trust Company of Louisville, Ky., by the Central Trust Company of New York. The Fidelity Company has been ordered by the Court to turn over the property to the Central Trust Company.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

STOCK MARKETS.

A GENERAL DOWNWARD TENDENCY OF THE QUOTATIONS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 30.—Stock quotations were very unsatisfactory today to the gloomy to a number of gas securities. The agreement that they should not return to work until the cost of living was increased from ten, and a half to three cents per ton, and a half cents in the tons, caused sad short goals, and from one to two and a half cents in the tons. The decision of the miners declared valley but with the exception of a few gray which have not been heard from, they did not attend the agreement that they will not return to work during winter the situation is grateful.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 30.—Special.—The Times' morning says, about by H. C. Frick, and Mr. H. Lynch, was signed today by an attachment for $10,000 by J. D. Arbuckle & Co., wholesale coffee dealers, New York, N. Y. Special to The Dispatch: Leasing of the coal at $2,000 and the goods at $2,000 and the goods belonging to Arbuckle & Co. Special to The Dispatch: Leasing of the coal at $2,000 and the goods at $2,000 and the goods belonging to Arbuckle & Co.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 30.—Owing to the failure of Lyman & Co., wholesale marble dealers, Superior street, the Cleveland Trust Company, which has a claim of $10,000, has taken charge of the property. The liabilities are $50,000, and the assets are considered good. The cause was Democrats Opposed to Strengthening the Navy Until They Come into Power.

Trouble Threat at the Creation of the National Voter-Preparing for the Inauguration.

THE ADJOURNMENT QUESTION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—[Special.]—The Senate has entered a very peculiar and embarrassing position with respect to the holiday adjournment. It has declined to grant the joint resolution to adjourn from tonight until Jan. 5, and adjourned to meet Monday. Of course the joint resolution fails, and under a strict construction of the agreement of the House it will not be possible for that body, when it shall meet Wednesday, to agree to an adjournment resolution, even if the Senate should grant one Monday. There is no power in the House to fix the days on which it will be in session. The existence of the House will have terminated nothing sooner to get a number of gentlemen to their respective homes, which, as stated, is the only reason for the adjournment. Some members of the House have left for their homes, and others are preparing to leave. The Senate, however, will have to remain in the session of the House, and all efforts to transact any business will be futile. The House will be in session on a single day, and that is to receive the votes from the electoral colleges to-day. The Senate will be in session on a single day, and that is to receive the votes from the electoral colleges to-day. The Senate will be in session on a single day, and that is to receive the votes from the electoral colleges to-day.

THE NAVY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—The Democratic members of the Senate naval committee have decided to oppose any increase of the navy until after the 4th of March next. They will not consent to the passage of any bill providing for the construction of any vessels of war, and will oppose the consideration of any bill providing for the construction of any vessels of war. They will not consent to the passage of any bill providing for the construction of any vessels of war, and will oppose the consideration of any bill providing for the construction of any vessels of war.

THE ELECTORAL VOTES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—[Special.]—There is every reason to believe that the electoral vote for President and Vice President in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives will be received and counted without objection. The counting of the electoral votes will be a matter of form, and will be done in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, and will be received and counted without objection. The counting of the electoral votes will be a matter of form, and will be done in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, and will be received and counted without objection.

THE TARIFF

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—[Special.]—The Democratic leaders in the House have come to the conclusion that it will be impossible to pass the Wilson tariff bill through the House before the holidays. They will not consent to the passage of any bill providing for the construction of any vessels of war, and will oppose the consideration of any bill providing for the construction of any vessels of war. The Week in New York Opened with a Ball at Pierre Lorillard's.

A Long List of Festivities Prepared for the Approaching Holiday Week.

The Weddings, Receptions, Parties, and Other Social Happenings in Chicago.

NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 24.—[Special.]—The effect of all festivity appears to be handicapped for Sunday, therefore this week's list of the Pierre Lorillard's private ball Monday evening was the natural inauguration of the week. Impressed with the importance of the event, Mrs. Lorillard thought to set a pace for the week's festivities, to which those who had not been invited might look forward. The house was filled with flowers, and the ballroom was a bower of roses, and all of the leading New York families were present in the handsome apartments. Dancing was brought to an end at midnight, and then, with the exception of a few dinners and teas, and a musicale given by Mrs. Frederick Gebhard, the week's gaiety was practically ended. The last event of the evening was the reception given by Mrs. Frederick Gebhard in honor of Miss Marie Rives, who is visiting in New York.

Mr. E. Parmly Paine, President of the Board of Trade, gave a dinner on Saturday evening in honor of Mr. Frederick Vanderbilt, who is visiting in New York. The dinner was followed by a reception, which had been arranged in the form of a command performance by a number of well known actors and actresses. The theatre-loving guests, including a delightful assortment of the best known and latest, the entire company from the Knickerbocker Theatre, the cast of "Mrs. Dane's Defense" at the Hudson, and the principal members of the company playing at the Savoy, Herald Square, and Criterion theatres, were invited to the theatre after the dinner, and were entertained by a number of short vaudeville sketches and specialties

IN GENERAL.

Frank Stewart, living at No. 132 Sacramento street, was struck by a train which ran over him.

Three fares have received from Consul Pierce & Co., No. 122 Stockport street, two issues of the Illustrated London News, containing Pictorial Parts, and other London and Paris papers.

The fire-bretched service of the Adelphi Theater was begun at 10 a. m. Sunday, and in similar order. Several servants, employees, entertainers, and others were given their Saturday pay envelope.

The temperance yesterday as observed by Bethesda, Ephesus, Calvary, Bethany, and Hebron (colored) churches, Central Music Hall, and Farwell Hall, and the Young Men's Christian Association Auditorium, and Grace Methodist Episcopal church.

Agnes Gaffney, 17 years old, a bride of two months, was instantly killed at her home, No. 106 Dickens avenue, by falling from the upper landing of a double stairway. She was visiting a newly married friend, living on the second floor, and, after saying her farewells, started down the stairway, a distance of eight feet, and fell upon the cement floor at the foot.

Jack Wells, who has been bothering the authorities for several days for a permit to appear at the Old Vienna avenue of the streets of the city, was arrested, and yesterday brought before Justice Haines. Wells, being unable to secure the permit, was fined $100 and costs, and in default was committed to the county jail.

T. W. Sacrestein, a Canada who, having a relative at No. 111 Chicago avenue, was arrested yesterday on complaint of C. H. Johnson, one of the Chicago Lumber Company, who charges that with Sunday a checkbook and certain papers belonging to Johnson disappeared. Sacrestein was arrested on Clark street, and the checkbook and papers found in his possession. He was held to the Central Station for examination.

Mrs. Ellen, who keeps a lodging house at No. 101 and 103 Fifth street, and who had a fractured forearm and dislocated wrist, caused by the arrest of Frank King and Daniel Sullivan, charging the two with disorderly conduct, was not the cause with disorderly conduct, was fined $100 and costs, and Sullivan, who, it is charged, struck Mrs. Ellen, was fined $100 and costs. Both men were committed to the county jail.

Chris Johnson, a Swedish girl 18 years old, employed as domestic in the family of Charles H. Ivins at No. 1000 Division street, went to view the remains in the undertaking parlors of Peterson & Son, No. 1000 Division street, early Friday morning, and her condition caused grave fears. The young woman remained unconscious for several hours, and was finally taken to her home. The doctors pronounced the illness due to nervous prostration.

CHRISTMAS DRY GOODS SALE

S. M. ROTHSCHILD.

I Have the Most Elegant and Most Useful Christmas Present

Which the people of Chicago have ever witnessed—no Toys or Trinkets such as other Dry-Goods houses are trying to sell at this time of the year, but I have on exhibition the most beautiful selection of Dry Goods, of foreign and domestic manufacture, ever shown in this country. My goods are specially adapted for this rigorous climate, manufactured and imported by me expressly for the Christmas trade. There is no hurt, money in season, and what is the use in buying nonessential wares when you can just as well buy a useful present—an article of wearing apparel, which is useful as well as ornamental—such as a Cloak, Shawl, Wrap, Dress, Neckwear, Gloves, Mittens, Handkerchiefs, or Hosiery, particularly now, (when you can have the best chance in your life)

At About One-Half the Usual Price.

Now, don't make a mistake; don't go to stores who take the bread out of your mouth; don't patronize your enemy. Furthermore, don't be misled by houses who never advertise only once or twice before Christmas, as they don't do MUCH and want to get rich on you at once. Please don't be misled by Fire, Smoke, and Water Sales. Burned Dry Goods are not worth carrying home; damaged goods are dear at any price at all. The people of Chicago have paid dearly for fire sales. It is only the ignorant class of people who flock to stores with big signs with bad lettering and poor spelling on them. The weather is cold, the walking is bad, the noisy street peddler is annoying to all pedestrians. Why go any further? Why waste your valuable time? Life is too short to run all over creation to buy a present for your wife, daughter, husband, brother, lover, or sweetheart. Come right straight here to me. It will pay you.

TO COME ONE THOUSAND MILES TO SEE THEM

Such a difference in stores. What comfort is there in going to a Dry-Goods Store where you must listen to the trumpet sound, to the beat of the drum, and all sorts of confusion? How can you be suited in style, price and quality? Houses who claim to be aristocratic dare not advertise in these columns their unlawful ways, but send around pamphlets, in which they openly playing cards and thousands of other trinkets to squeeze everybody out of their large stamps for Christmas. I keep the only Dry-Goods Store in Chicago who don't meddle with other business. My location is central, my store is beautiful, my salespeople are obliging. Come and see me.

I WILL MAKE YOU FEEL GOOD, I WILL MAKE YOU FEEL HAPPY.

THE DRAMA.

A Defense by Sothern.

An article on the subject of matters which has contributed to those actresses who would prefer steadily against managers who violate the general principle of domestic art by weighting their with moral conditions, and unfavorably the pursuit and other violations of taste in the matter of stage accessories. In this connection there is a good moral action on interesting latter remarks by supplementary criticism by Sothern from the standpoint, and throws light upon the practical phases of an actor's profession. Every actor is sure to plead that artistic success is likely to be secured only with the most genius, and that many of the greatest pioneers are to be attributed to the vulgar additional accessories and tricks of managers. On this fact will come to many after mature thinking be considered to that the power of every artistic object is to put on the proposed of the theatre. The event, which is the opening announcements have information that are interesting readers, is as follows:

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—You have been pointing to the pernicious influence of the stage upon the public mind, and I am anxious that my profession should not escape censure for its part in the matter. I am not conscious of any desire to shirk my responsibility for the
